

What if Today

you were given a new clean slate where you were able to start fresh again with no doubt in your heart of knowing who you are where the script was now being re-written, exactly as you wished with happy endings and lots of love scenes with intimate interiors and gorgeous exteriors*

What if you hired a new writer that wrote winning scenes where the cameramen only shot your best shot and the cinematographer picked the ideal scenes where the curtain opened and never closed and the editor edited out all negative thoughts

What if today you were cast for the starring role of your life and you were even given an award

What if today, this moment, you claimed yourself and your trust was rekindled to the voice of your heart

What if today, this moment, you stepped fully into who you are, you dared, you shared and you gave the world the gift of the magnificent you!
